DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 – 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102b as being anticipated by Habeeb et al.

(US 5,124,054)

3. In regards to claims 1, 2, Habeeb teaches a lubricating oil additive containing a quaternary ammonium salt for use in internal combustion engines (column 2 lines 21 – 25). Habeeb teaches that the ammonium salt is a salt of an ammonium compound and a hydroxide (column 1 lines 54 – 68; column 2 lines 1 – 2). The ammonium group contains hydrocarbon groups, R₁, R₂, R₃, R₄; R₁ contains 1 to 24 carbons, R₂ contains preferably 4 to 24 carbons, R₃ and R₄ each contain 4 to 24 carbons which encompass the limitations of claim 2, thus proving a base number of at least 10 mgKOH/g according to the limitation of claim 1. The proviso of two of the R groups containing between 1 to 4 carbons is also met by the groups R₂, R₃, R₄ which can contain from 4 to 24 carbons.

4. In regards to claims 3, 6, Habeeb teaches the lubricating oil additive wherein the X group of the claim is a hydroxide, which is a hydroxyl group thus meeting the claimed limitation.

5. In regards to claims 4, 7 – 9, Habeeb teaches the lubricating oil additive used in internal combustion engine lubricants as previously stated.

Art Unit: 1797

6. In regards to claim 5, 10 – 13, Habeeb teaches the lubricating oil additive can comprise from about 0.1 to % wt. % in the lubricant (column 2 lines 37 – 40).

Conclusion

7. The International search report dated 07/24/2006 provides 8 X references, however these references were not used for rejection of the instant claims at this time since the reference by Habeeb seems to better reflect the claimed inventions.
